Taylor J. Hadfield

Of Counsel | Idaho Falls

Biography

Taylor Hadfield is an of counsel attorney in Parsons Behle & Latimer's litigation practice. Taylor's practice focuses on civil litigation, including business and commercial disputes, construction litigation, employment matters and real estate litigation. Taylor represents businesses, employers and property owners in complex disputes and works to resolve conflicts efficiently through strategic and creative advocacy, both in and out of the courtroom.

Taylor earned his J.D., cum laude, from the J. Reuben Clark Law School at Brigham Young University. During law school, he was actively involved in the trial advocacy team, the moot court team—competing across the country with his classmates for both, and he served as a board member on the Trial Advocacy Board and the Moot Court Board of Advocates.

Outside the office, Taylor enjoys spending time outdoors. He is an avid fly fisherman and hunter and also enjoys playing sports and spending time with his wife and three children.
