Of Counsel | Rexburg

Biography

Skyler is an accomplished attorney with extensive experience in real estate, corporate, transactional and litigation law. Skyler provides comprehensive legal counsel to multiple development companies and businesses across the Mountain West and California. His practice focuses on strategic deal negotiation, business formation, mergers and acquisitions, real estate transactions and fund formation

Skyler's career includes notable roles such as partner and chief legal officer at California Capital Group, where he was instrumental in founding the company and overseeing its legal and business operations until its successful acquisition. He also served as general counsel at California Capital & Investment Group Inc., managing all real estate transactions and litigation, including high-stakes lawsuits with significant victories in both state and federal courts.

In addition to his professional practice, Skyler is dedicated to education and mentorship, currently serving as an adjunct professor at Brigham Young University – Idaho, where he teaches business law. His prior experience includes significant roles at Hewlett-Packard Company and Tallen & Keshen Holdings, LLC, where he negotiated substantial deals and managed large-scale asset acquisitions.

Skyler earned his Juris Doctor from Pepperdine University School of Law, graduating with honors and contributing to the Pepperdine Law Review. He holds a B.A. in history with a minor in business from Brigham Young University, where he also graduated with honors. He is a licensed attorney in California and Idaho.

Skyler's blend of legal expertise, business acumen and commitment to education positions him as a valuable asset to clients seeking practical and strategic legal solutions.
