Eric U. Johnson

Of Counsel | Salt Lake City

Biography

Eric Johnson is an attorney in the litigation practice group at Parsons Behle & Latimer. Eric has recently represented clients in matters involving, among other things:

- Commercial contract disputes
- Employment litigation (Title VII, FLSA, Equal Pay Act)
- Insurance bad faith
- Trade secrets
- Utah Truth in Advertising Act
- Utah Consumer Sales Practices Act

Before joining Parsons Behle & Latimer, Eric served as an Assistant Attorney General (AAG) with the Office of the Attorney General for the District of Columbia. As an AAG, Eric represented the District of Columbia in complex and high-profile civil litigation, including constitutional challenges (First Amendment, unlawful takings, procedural and substantive due process), putative class actions, and employment litigation involving high-ranking former government officials. Earlier in his career, Eric worked as a Trial Attorney with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's Office of Administrative Litigation.

Eric received his J.D. from the New York University School of Law, where he served as a Notes Editor for the NYU Journal of Law & Liberty. After law school, he served as a law clerk to U.S. Magistrate Judge Evelyn J. Furse in Salt Lake City and then to U.S. District Judge Sandra L. Townes in Brooklyn, N.Y.
