Biography

Keyan Norman is a member of the firm's corporate practice, where he advises businesses and equity owners across a broad range of industries on mergers and acquisitions, sales, financings, entity formation and planning, restructurings, key commercial agreements and general outside counsel matters. His experience spans sectors such as technology, consumer products, manufacturing and healthcare, including work with dental and medical organizations on acquisitions, roll-up strategies and the structuring of management services organizations (MSOs) and dental support organizations (DSOs). Keyan represents a wide spectrum of clients—from search funds and small-to-medium businesses (SMBs) to middle-market companies and private equity sponsors—across a variety of transactional and strategic matters.

Before joining the firm, Keyan practiced at a large international law firm, where he represented leading private equity sponsors, their portfolio companies and privately held businesses in complex transactions ranging from a few million to several billion dollars. His work included acquisitions, divestitures, leveraged buyouts, restructurings and ongoing corporate governance matters.

Outside of work, Keyan enjoys spending time with his family, playing and watching sports of all kinds, coaching youth teams, golfing and reading.

Experience

Prior to joining the firm, Keyan represented private equity clients and their portfolio companies in transactions ranging from a few million to several billion dollars.
