Kate Wheeler Peterson

Associate | Idaho Falls

Biography

Kate is an associate attorney in Parsons' Idaho Falls office where she focuses her practice on business, real estate, employment and bankruptcy, primarily in the agriculture and construction industries. In her practice, Kate represents various business entities in business formations and dissolutions, commercial litigation and collections. Her real estate experience includes property development, transactions, boundary disputes, quiet title actions and easement disputes. Kate also represents creditors and other clients navigating bankruptcy and business restructuring. Prior to joining Parsons, Kate practiced law at the Idaho-based firm of Racine Olson, PLLP.

Kate is a native of Blackfoot, Idaho. After obtaining her undergraduate degree in Political Science, she attended law school at Arizona State University. During that time, she was a Rule 39 Certified Student working with the Arizona Justice Project. She was a board member for the Women Law Students Association and a Note & Comment editor for the Arizona State University Corporate and Business Law Journal.

In her free time, Kate enjoys exploring the Tetons and viewing wildlife, camping and fishing with her husband Tyler and their dogs. She also enjoys gardening, baking, reading and spending time with her family.
