Biography

Jon's practice spans Parsons Behle & Latimer's intellectual property, antitrust and competition and litigation practice groups, and his experience crosses numerous industries, including retail and consumer products, apparel, construction, nutritional and dietary supplements, dental and healthcare, food and beverages, agribusiness, software, semiconductors, higher education, social media, entertainment, outdoor recreation and emerging technology.

From startups to multinational corporations, clients trust Jon with all aspects of domestic and international brand protection and enforcement. Jon guides clients through the process of selecting and clearing trademarks, securing domestic and foreign trademark registrations, and maintaining and enforcing emerging and established brands, including domestic and worldwide trademark portfolios.

Clients benefit from Jon's experience in prosecuting trademark applications and responding to U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) Actions. He regularly represents clients in opposition and cancellation proceedings before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board and has counseled clients in matters regarding Uniform Domain-Name Dispute Resolution proceedings. He also provides guidance to clients in licensing and assigning trademarks.

For nearly two years, Jon worked with a client on a part-time secondment as outside counsel where he was responsible for prosecuting, managing and enforcing the client's global trademark portfolio.

Jon also has deep experience in securing copyright protection and enforcing rights in copyrighted works. He helps clients craft creative solutions to combat intellectual property infringement through the Digital Millennium Copyright Act and
