

Emma is a member of the firm's corporate practice team where she assists clients with strategic tax and legal guidance on a variety of commercial and real estate matters. Leveraging her background and passion in forensic accounting, she also helps clients investigate and analyze financial transactions.

Emma B. Dugenske

Associate | Missoula

Biography

While obtaining her J.D. from Gonzaga University School of Law, Emma simultaneously worked to earn her Masters of Science in Taxation from Gonzaga University Graduate School of Business Administration. During her time in law school, Emma worked as a law clerk at small and mid-size law firms, gaining experience working with clients in a variety of different situations.

Within Gonzaga's School of Business Administration, Emma was the graduate assistant for the business law course. Emma also participated in the Justice for Fraud Victims program where she worked with local law enforcement to investigate a local company that allegedly stole more than $150,000 from elderly clients.

Before attending law school and graduate school, Emma played soccer and graduated summa cum laude from University of Wisconsin-Whitewater with a Bachelor's of Business Administration degree in accounting.

In her free time, Emma enjoys watching football, working out, hiking and drinking coffee.
